PhD Course in MOLECULAR AND TRANSLATIONAL MEDICINE

Track 1: Molecular oncology and pathology

Track 2: Nutritional and metabolic sciences

DISCIPLINARY SCIENTIFIC AREA	06 - MEDICAL SCIENCES; 05 - BIOLOGICAL SCIENCES; 03 - CHEMICAL SCIENCES
PHD COURSE DIRECTOR	PROF. PIERLUIGI COCCO
HEAD OFFICE	DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC HEALTH, MOLECULAR AND CLINICAL MEDICINE
COURSE DURATION	3 YEARS
EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES AND RESEARCH TOPICS	The three-year program in Molecular and Translational Medicine at UniCA offers an interdisciplinary training of study and research that provides students with the knowledge and research skills required for a successful research career in biomedical sciences. The Program has two research tracks, molecular oncology and pathology, and nutritional and metabolic sciences, which together encompass interdisciplinary research and graduate training program suited for training young scientists for future appointments in academic institutions, research centers, or the biotech industry. The faculty comprises over 45 high rank Italian and international scientists, whose scientific interests cover a wide range of biomedical topics highly relevant to human health. PhD students in the molecular oncology and pathology track investigate genetic/epigenetic alterations and molecular epidemiology of solid and hematologic cancers, cancer biomarkers of diagnostic and prognostic value, genes involved in the pathogenesis of rare genetic diseases, molecular mechanisms of neurodegeneration, molecular pathogenesis of infectious diseases and interactions of pathogens with the host. PhD students in the nutritional and metabolic sciences track investigate molecular mechanisms of neuronal and endocrine systems, consequences of deficiencies of specific nutrients or supplements on the functionality of peripheral systems and CNS, impact of dietary habits and of physical activity in terms of neurologic, endocrinologic, gastroenterologic, gynecologic and cardiologic disorders.
